

Telefónica Leadership Conference

May 15th & 16th, 2013

Last May 15 and 16, Telefónica Leadership Conference was held in Mendoza, Argentina. This is an event that gathers CEOs and CIOs from the 500 most important companies in the world that work with Telefónica in order to discuss technology. As the event documentation and publicity say, it is: "A Meeting of Leaders and Technology".

Different representatives from the technology, politics, economy, and culture sectors participated in the conference. Among the main speakers was former Brazil President, Luiz Inácio Lula Da Silva who, after telling his life story, assured that the basis for a country growth is education which, together with innovation, are key aspects for individuals. Juan José Campanella, motion pictures director, Karla Wheelock, inspiring mountain climber, and Francisco Pérez, Governor of the Mendoza Province also participated in the event, among other.

MundoChile had the important task of sending two simultaneous professional interpreters from our team, working in English and Portuguese languages, with a deep command of technology subjects.

Our clients' comments after the event backup, once more, the high quality of services rendered by our company in Chile and abroad.
